About the Transition to Work Program

Transition to Work is designed to support you to achieve your employment and education goals. Specifically designed for young people from 15 to 24 years, you'll receive intensive, pre-employment support to gain practical skills to get a job, enrol in education or training, find local job opportunities and connect with relevant local community services.

Delivering the Transition to Work program across 40 locations across the New England North West and Far West Orana, our offices are central and easily accessible, and you are always welcome. We have a 'drop in' atmosphere with free Wi-Fi, mobile device charging stations, phones and computers.

Our Commitment to you

Our dedicated specialist youth team understand that your journey is as individual as you are. We'll support you to connect with pathways to employment, education or both, overcoming any challenges each step along the way with you.

We'll stay in touch with you at least fortnightly supporting you as you progress towards your employment and education goals and we'll continue to support you. Once you get a job, it doesn't stop there – we'll provide tailored post placement support to you for a minimum of six months.

We'll treat you fairly and in a culturally sensitive way.

You can expect:

- A specialist youth consultant to individually work on a plan that supports you on your journey towards employment
- Employment opportunities within your local area or beyond
- Youth specific pre-employment programs designed with experts in the industry you want to work in so you can gain the skills you need
- Local access to short course training such as RSA, RCG and Forklift Licence to increase your employability
- A specialist youth consultant, there for you with ongoing individual support to identify and help you overcome challenges
- Group sessions offering informal learning for work readiness, job application and interview skills, as well as study and life skills
- Connection to gain a qualification or complete Year 12 and provide additional job coaching.
