

7th July 2022

Jennifer Wilson
Director
Deals, Tax & Legal
KPMG Law
1 Constitution Ave
Canberra ACT 2612 Australia

Via email: au-fmsajeractreview@kpmg.com.au

Dear Ms Wilson

Re: Statutory review of casual employment legislation

Thank you for your invitation to participate in consultation with KPMG about the previous Government's legislation.

As you have indicated, the ACTU and a range of unions contributed submissions and views on the introduction of the Morrison Government's Fair Work Amendment Bill. I note your request that we not reiterate any views previously expressed.

Our criticisms made in those submissions are current and we hope that the review team finds them useful.

The work of the ACTU and trade unions are funded by union members throughout Australia. We therefore feel acutely the need to prioritise our resources. As a result, I hope you will understand that I will refer you to documents already produced by the ACTU and our affiliates, that you may not have been provided. These documents can be found on the internet here:

- Casual workers lose rights as Morrison Government's changes hit Awards \(actu.org.au\)
- Casual workers \$350 worse off every week: new report \(actu.org.au\)
- Media Release: Casual conversion failure blasted by unions at 12-hour sit-in - Victoria University \(nteu.org.au\)

Yours sincerely

Yvette Nash
Executive Officer