

Submission 2. Name Withheld

We need to include those who are on remand and not yet sentenced. Due to our current court system someone can be on remand for up to 10months before their case is heard, when it is they can be released due to time already served. If the court systems worked well and quickly, we have had the chance to work with them as they would have been sentenced during that time and not being held on remand. All people placed in prison either on remand or sentenced deserves the right to assistance and support, not just those who have been sentenced. Alot of people are falling through the cracks in the system who could have been assisted and supported, to gain employment and strive for better for themselves.
